IN MEMORIAM

JOHN W. SURRA
April 29, 1893 - August 17, 1950

All one's life is music,
if one touches the notes rightly,
and in time.

John Ruskin

ALMA MATER

MODERATO

INTRO

PIANO

Handwritten musical score for the song "Alma Mater". The score is written on five staves. The first staff is the treble clef, and the second is the bass clef. The key signature is one flat (B-flat). The tempo is marked "MODERATO". The first section is labeled "INTRO". The second section is labeled "VOICES". The third section is labeled "PIANO". The score includes various musical notations such as notes, rests, and dynamic markings.

TRUTH AND WISDOM WE HAVE FOUND HERE,

HISTORY OF SENIOR CLASS

We are now in our last year at West Seneca Central School,
The dear old Alma Mater where
We learned the Golden Rule.

And now as we review our lives,
And think back on the years,
We find that we've had all the
Laughs, the heartaches and the tears.

So here is just a short review,
Of all the fun we've had;
And just to think that its all gone,
Makes us rather sad.

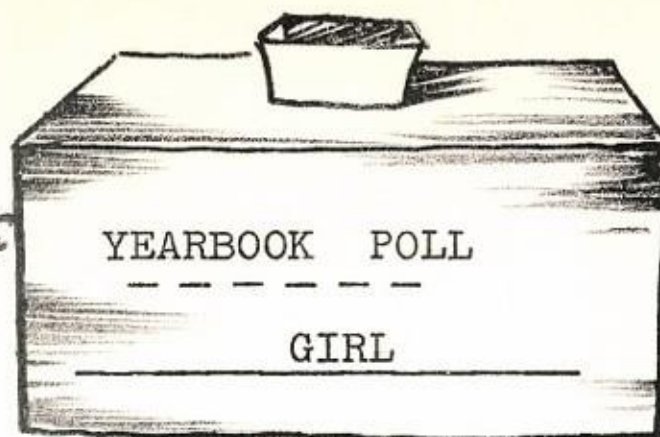

FRESHMAN YEAR: 1948 found us in two different schools, namely, Gardenville and Ebenezer. During this time, Joan Lein and Lloyd Breeser were elected Presidents. The main feature of this year was a picnic at the Park.

SOPHOMORE YEAR: 1949 This year we were united in West Seneca Central High. We elected Chuck Tiberi as our President. After learning our way around the one-way halls, we settled down to the lives of under-classmen. Under this rule we were not allowed to hold any dances. The highlight of this year was a picnic at Chestnut Ridge.

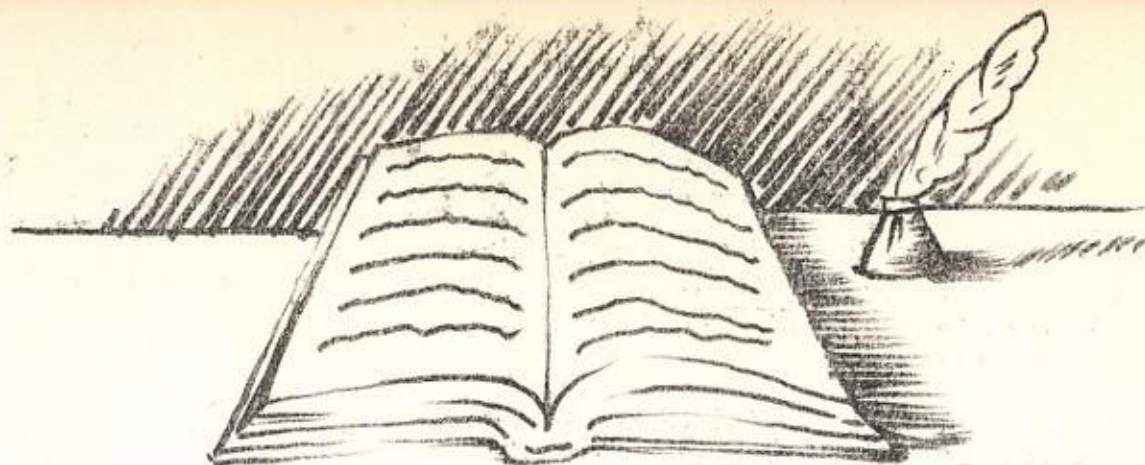

JUNIOR YEAR: 1950 At last we were upper-classmen! We elected Marco Fuoco as our President. We held many dances and social hour activities in order to raise the money needed to finance the most important moment of the Junior year, The Junior-Senior Prom.

SENIOR YEAR: 1951 Our final year at W. S. C. H. S.! With Jack Zimmerman as our President, we were determined to make this the best of all. We held an informal dance in the fall, a Christmas Dance, "The Snow Ball", as Easter dance, and "The Junior-Senior Prom" in May. Class-Night and finally our Senior picnic. We presented a play entitled "Mother Is a Freshman". Our very able print shop turned out this year-book under the guidance and direction of Mr. Heintz and Mr. Hrycik. We all are looking forward to graduation, and the careers we've picked for ourselves.

But after the day of our graduation,
We plan to dive into our vocation.
So look us up when the years we spanned,
And see if we've accomplished the things
We planned.
But don't get us wrong, its really been fun,
Being the Class of 1951.

Senior Prophecy 1951

During this gigantic television rage, we shall pause a moment to look ten years in advance at what the seniors of '51 are doing. This should prove to be an interesting prediction, so if you would like to have on-the-spot information, grab a chair and watch with us.

The first program tonight is called "Historic Landmarks". Wonder what it's about? Well, just look now, if it isn't our old Alma Mater, West Seneca Central. My, that principal looks familiar. Well, if it isn't our old classmate, Tom Sensabaugh! And just look at the other teachers!!

Industrial Arts: Don Spencer
History: Bill Sommersdorf
French: Nancy Cavalcoti
Gym: Gerry Thomas
Gym: Danny Blando

Guidance Counselor: Pat Wallin
Guidance Counselor: Margie Dombrowski
Math: Joan Gaiser
Librarian: Joan Schattner
English: Betty Tomchuck

Oh, here comes an advertisement for the Red Cross Drive. Some of the nurses we can see are Joan Nemes, Shirley Hess, Norma Kalle and Ruth Falkenbach. The doctor in charge is our handsome friend, Chuck Tiberi. Let's all be nurses, girls!

Next on the agenda is "Sports Reviews". Look--they're interviewing Jack "Speed" Zimmerman, all-star first baseman for the West Seneca Flub-the-dubs. And we see Hank Piegza is star pitcher, too. By the way, their secretary is Joan Monin, now Mrs. Bud Murray.

What was that streak of lightning across the screen just now? Hope the set isn't going to break down. Why, that was Tom Toy, winning the World Track Championship Cup. Nice hoofing, Tom!

Well, well what's Don Reger doing on TV? Why, he was elected captain of Notre Dame's football team, with Al Spencer as star fullback. With Dick Rotterman's excellent coaching, it should be a pretty good season. Some of the other star players are George Aiple, John Brant, Ken Galley, and Dave Swanson. Before we forget, Art Bagg was chosen as water boy.

Well, what have we here? If it isn't our old friend Adeline Krawczyk as champion of the lady wrestlers. And just look at whom she's wrestling! It's the "Mighty Microbe", better known to you as Lois Biesinger.

That's enough sports for a while, so let's turn the channel and watch "We the People," emceed by our old pal Don Locke. The program's sponsor is that new muscle-building cereal called "Krispy Kidney Kurdles," a business owned by that multi-millionaire, Ray MacCarthy.

Let's watch their first guest. His voice sounds familiar. Why, it's Marco Fuoco, singing his latest release called "The Battle Hymn of a Marriage." He's really got the bobby-soxers swooning!

The next performer is "Marjol" the great magician, better known to you as Russ Anderson. His beautiful and vivacious assistant is Rita Strano.

Now let's turn to Channel 23, and watch the "Dick Haefner Show," recently taken over by Dusty Penrod, as Dick has gone to Hollywood to make a film called "A. W. O. L. --All Wacs On Leave," a sequel to "At War With The Army." Also starring in leading roles are, James Briedenstein as Major Hennarinse, Ray Kracht as Commander Cottonmouth, Peter Bilotta as Private Pinkleton, and Ed Doerfel as Private Pushbutton.

Leading with the female roles are Peg Metzler and Theresa Sporski as the Wacky sisters and Mary and Mary Lou DeLisle as the "Twinkle Twins."

Let's get back to the program now. The first amateurs are our old friends Anita Steinberg and Diane Kelly, doing the "Spiderweb" dance. They certainly have changed since we knew them.

Oh, here comes the commercial advertising the new twelve-inch "Ducky Spike" cigarettes, with Spooky Mannson (Bill Mann) and the Sweetheart of Ducky Spikes, Jo Ann Evans.

Here comes a ventriloquist, and if it isn't Don Stewart and his pal, Jack Unspades. H'mm, he isn't too bad, either.

Next on the agenda are a group of acrobats, who give their names as June Fecteau, Norm Schlatter, Gail Midsonk, Dick Benzel, Dick Williams, and Jean Block. I don't see how they do it!

Well, here's the Mexico Star Theater, with "Uncle Tony" (Derigo, that is.) He's introducing the "Worp-ettes," the popular singing quartette. In case you don't know, they are our old gal-pals, Pearl Neipp, Joan Dailey, Annette Seedorf, Beverly Buncy and Betty Mingle. Their version of the latest song rage, "Ugly, Ugly, Green Eyes" was really super.

Say, did you hear the latest about Marion Fath? She married the "Stic-well Lipstick" millionaire, and is the proud mother of four children. I recall her saying she was gonna be a life-long secretary. Short life, Eh?

Also, we hear Joyce Vogel is now Mrs. Robert Leatherbarrow, and doing quite well with "Little Liz" and another "Small Spook."

Did you see my new neighbor? It's Dorothea Flett, now Mrs. Arno Konstabel and the mother of five girls. Running in competition with Eddie Cantor, Dorothea?

Did you hear about Paul McGrath? He started a greenhouse in Ebenezer, and is specializing in the famous "Ebenezer Onions." His wife, Ruth Heusinger, helps him out, and he has hired two assistants, who are our old pals, Bob Wirth and Ed Caldwell.

Bud Burdick and Bob Hahn have formed a partnership now, and through ten long years of research and study, they have perfected a new bobby pin which grips your scalp while it grips your hair. They also have some old senior girls of '51 demonstrating how to use them. You'll remember them as Barbara Marr, Joyce Reese, Carolyn Gick, Dot Tokar and Norene Myles.

From reading the society pages in the paper, Jean Crane is one of the startling new debutantes, and has been quite a success with all the bachelors. Others we've read about are Carolyn Bauer, Louise Nazzarett, Marguerite Harris and Lorraine Buezak. They have been in current demand for special activities.

I heard Joan Schroeder and Pat Price are doing fine as private secretaries. Pat's making out with her boss, and Joan is engaged to a soldier. Nice going, gals!

Joyce Bilgeri was recently chosen as winner of an art contest. She's getting a job in New York designing dresses. Marilyn Moeller, Dorothy Jezierski and Phyllis Earsing have started a small restaurant of their own, with a special dish that they call "Schlurpitan-burpit Soup." It's getting to be quite popular, too. Gossip says they're expanding their place. Marilyn Yeager is now teaching at some famous university, and Joan Lein is teaching piano, and doing very well. Janet Surman is modeling on Fifth Avenue. Remember when she modeled our graduation gowns? I guess she must have liked it.

Frank Pirritano is getting to be a famous stock-car racer, along with Norm Pietrzak, Layton Reopolos and Ron Vandermuelen. Ron Chapin, Bob Motak and Bernie Wendel have opened an airport for student fliers, and are becoming popular.

Pat Coyle and Faye Beck are both happily married, and we hear that "Happy" Mally's little girl won a national baby contest.

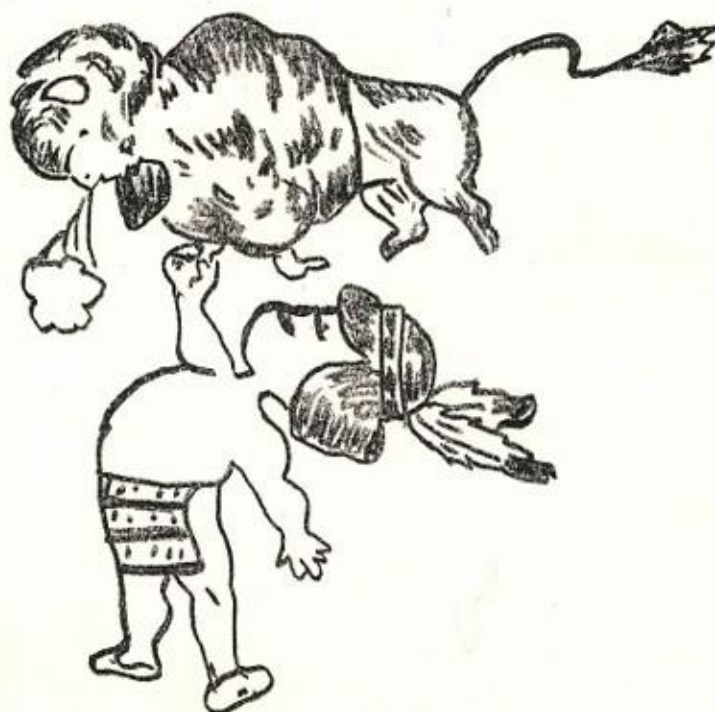

Joan Warren now owns a library, and is selling as well as lending books. Eileen Kless is her treasurer and secretary, and Dolores Kibler is her bookkeeper.

Joyce Fitzner is working in the city morgue, dressing and fixing the "stiffs". I can just picture her.

Rose Langendorfer turned out to be a radio comedian. She's really good, and is quite in demand. Ruth Marx is coming along as the latest "blues" singer, and is very popular with the males.

Well, I guess that's all the gossip we can think about right now. Let's call it a night.

And so--the future of the Senior Class of '51 has so been foretold. If any of this relates in any way to the truth, we assure you it is purely co-incidental. Please don't hold anything against the authors, as we are not responsible.

Last Will and Testament Class 1951

We, the Senior Class of West Seneca Central High School, being of comparatively sound mind and body, do here-by declare our last will and testament.

To the incoming Juniors, we leave all the old paper-wads, pencil stubs, and dirty books they can find, and we direct that they, there-by, may keep and cherish these articles as remembrances of us. We further bequeath them all of our natural abilities and tricks of the trade, such as: making faces at the teachers, wrecking the driver training cars, and dominating the booths at Clark's and Fecteau's.

We, the class of '51, bequeath the following:

To Mr. Goodreds: Roller skates so he can get around the new school faster.

To The Guidance Department: 110 grateful graduates
110 solid friendships

To Mr. Rathke: A big penalty book to replace the one which was so greatly overworked by the senior class; and in which he may keep the records of his future truants. We further bequeath to him eight colored pencils where-by he may keep within the color scheme of the new school.

To The Music Department: A baby grand piano with an adjustable stool so Joanie can play without a dozen books under her. A new blue and gold uniform for the little monkey on the bass drum.

To The Chemistry Department: Cast iron test tubes so the future chemistry students can't blow them up so easily. Also, we bequeath this department odorless chemicals.

To The Art and Design Department: A new sink so the third floor water fountain won't be fifty different colors.

To The Mathematics Department: A different type of graph paper so future math students won't get so dizzy trying to figure them out.

To The Physical Education Department: An extra big waste paper basket to hold the overflow of gum-wads.

To The Driver Training Department: A set of rubber bumpers.

To The Language Department: New books with the answers to the translations in them.

To The Social Studies Department: New globes so future students won't labor under the misrepresentation that the world is flat.

To The English Department: A victrola that works! Records of the latest plays as "Oklahoma", "Call Me Madam", instead of "Hamlet", etc.

To The Industrial Arts Department: A genius to invent a machine to separate the type in the "Pie" box.

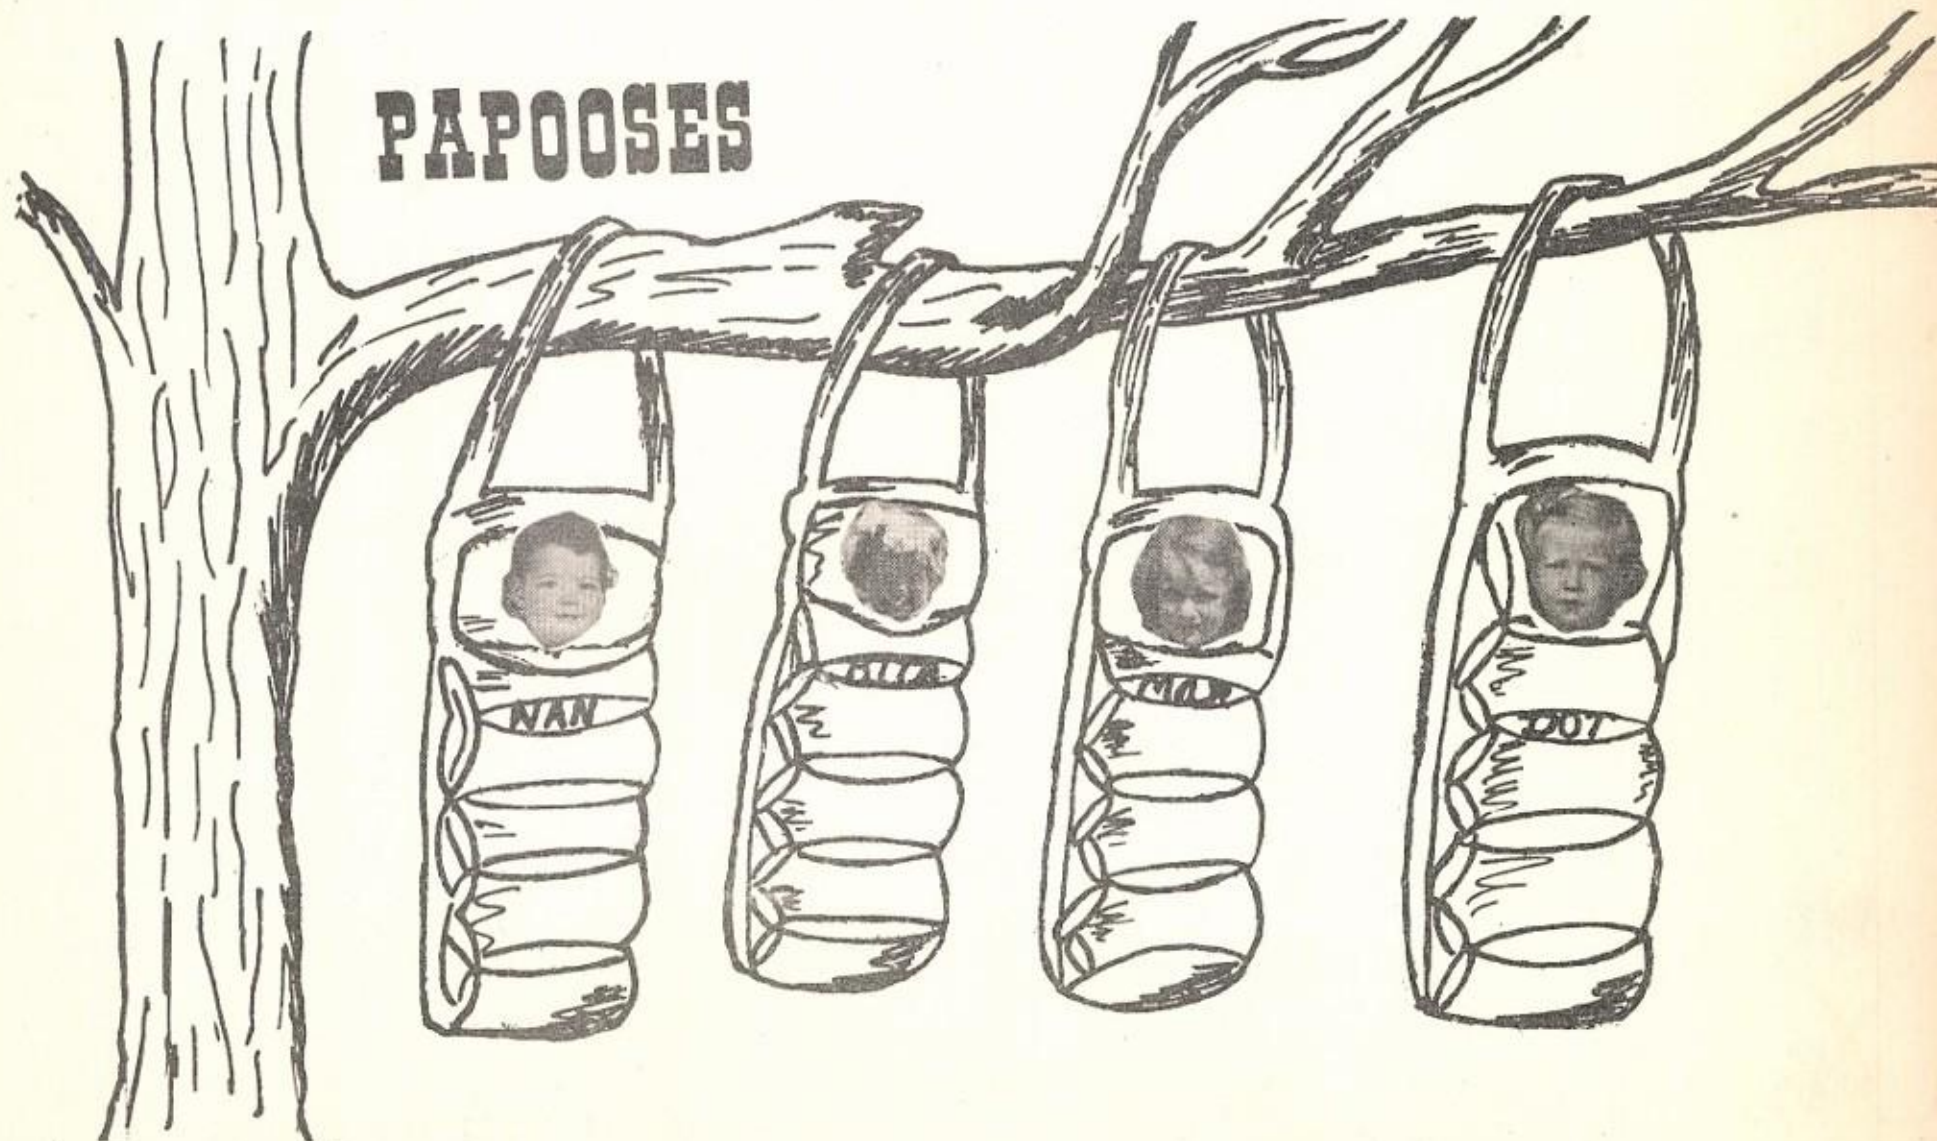

To The Health and Biology Department: Special cabinets for the cadavers. Also, the brains of the Senior class so future students can study the brains of genius.

To The Commercial Business Department: Special machines to take dictation, add bookkeeping figures, and type without error, so future students will have more time for fun.

To The Home Economics Department: A new studio couch that will seat more than five, or better still, big enough to seat the entire class.

To The New School: A "homework" machine, which students can put their assignments into, set a point, determining the subject, push a little button, and the assignment comes out of a little slot, completely finished and correctly done.

FEATURE WRITING

HONORABLE MENTION FOR ERIE COUNTY IN THE AMERICANISM CONTEST

AMERICANISM

—Marilyn Yeager

To me, "Americanism" is a great and glorious unfinished symphony continually playing in the world's most magnificent concert hall, the United States of America. Woven into this symphonic theme are all the beauty and drama threading our history from our country's colonial beginnings up to the present moment, our never ending fight for freedom, not only for ourselves, but for all the peoples of this world.

Each president, in turn, has conducted this symphony, directing the many players where and how to play the variations upon the theme. The orchestra itself is made up of four divisions. The first, the string section, composed of Congress and the law enforcing agencies, takes the lead, singing out the melody. The other sections follow the tempo set by the "conductor" and string section.

The second division contains the woodwinds--industrialists, farmers, housewives, students--who supply the necessary tone qualities, the materials without which the theme would not be complete, since first and foremost, ours is a government of the people.

Our armed forces make up the brass section. Their powerful tones are heard round the world, guaranteeing us freedom from fear of aggression, backing up the rest of the orchestra.

Finally, there is the percussion division including our professional people, and other great leaders. This section serves to point the way to harmonious government by the people, for the people.

The rest of our modern world stands as a critical audience listening to this great unfinished symphony, marveling at the WONDER OF AMERICA--shop windows filled with undreamed abundance, jobs for those who want work, country-wide help in disaster, elections without revolutions, a religious atmosphere of many churches, personal freedom for everyone.

This audience is wondering whether, as we continue composing, the notes of our great American Symphony forever will ring true, or whether the attempted Communistic onslaughts will create discord, spoiling our harmony.

But true Americans have no fear of striking a wrong note, for every movement in our history proves that our people can meet, face and conquer any crisis.

"THE SOCIAL LIFE OF THE EBENEZERS"

By: Thelma Hartzell

ATTENTION, CITIZENS OF WEST SENECA! SENSATIONAL ONE DAY TRIP BY TIME MACHINE TO WEST SENECA, 1851. IN HONOR OF THIS TOWN'S CENTENNIAL, THE TRIP WILL BE FREE OF CHARGE. ALL CITIZENS DESIRING PASSAGE, ASSEMBLE AT WEST SENECA TOWN HALL ON JULY 15 AT 8:00 A. M.

The above announcement intrigued me. On that eventful day, I embarked with twenty others on our unusual journey into the past. Back, into time; 1930-1900-finally-1851; we had reached Ebenezer.

Christian Metz, one of Ebenezer's founders, met the space ship and invited us to see the town. As we walked along, we noticed that the men were dressed in a fashion strange to us. Metz, for instance, was attired in a broad brimmed, flat crowned hat, and full trousers. He had no mustache, but a close trimmed beard.

One of our first stops was at a large community dining hall. Here the men and women gathered three times daily to partake of the wholesome Ebenezer-grown food, and to share in the scant social life of the times.

Because we were very interested in the family and the social life of the community, from there we went to the Metz home, typical of all the Ebenezer residences. The house was large and comfortable. Metz explained, "Each family is supplied with living quarters. No Ebenezer citizen is ever crowded." He continued, "Ebenezers do not work for wages, or own property. Everything is owned by all, for the common good".

We attended one of the Church services. The people had about eleven a week. There is no minister, silent prayer, chanted hymns, Bible lesson, and exhortations by the elders. After Church no one spoke, but went quietly home. This certainly was not a social occasion.

I conversed with an Ebenezer girl of about eighteen. She wore a full skirt, shoulder shawl, and sunbonnet with a cape at the back. The girl told me that Ebenezers did not visit each other, play cards, dance, drink, smoke, or partake of worldly pleasures.

After a time, the girl confided that her fiance had been up in the Canadian woods for six months. "He has to remain there until next summer. We are separated in this way for one year, unable to communicate, to test our love".

At the end of the day, our weary group boarded the time machine, set the dial for 1951, waved good-bye to Christian Metz, and started home.

"THE EBENEZERS"

By: Elizabeth Congelli

The Ebenezers came from Germany to win their religious freedom. They were Inspirationists in Germany.

They came to Buffalo because they heard there was land for sale at a low price and it was near a good market.

In a few months there was a village called Middle Ebenezer, which is now Gardenville. In the meantime two villages of Lower and Upper Ebenezer were growing up.

The name Ebenezer means "Our Lord has helped us."

In all governing affairs a council of thirteen elders were present. The village had its own store, school, church and buildings that were needed. The Ebenezers became very good farmers and were known for their onions.

The families had their own houses, but their meals were served in large central eating houses which could accommodate up to fifty persons.

The families were not paid for their work but were given enough for their living expenses.

The Ebenezers did not participate in social activities. The only time they got together was at eating time. The young people didn't play with each other. Parties, social gatherings and even music were forbidden.

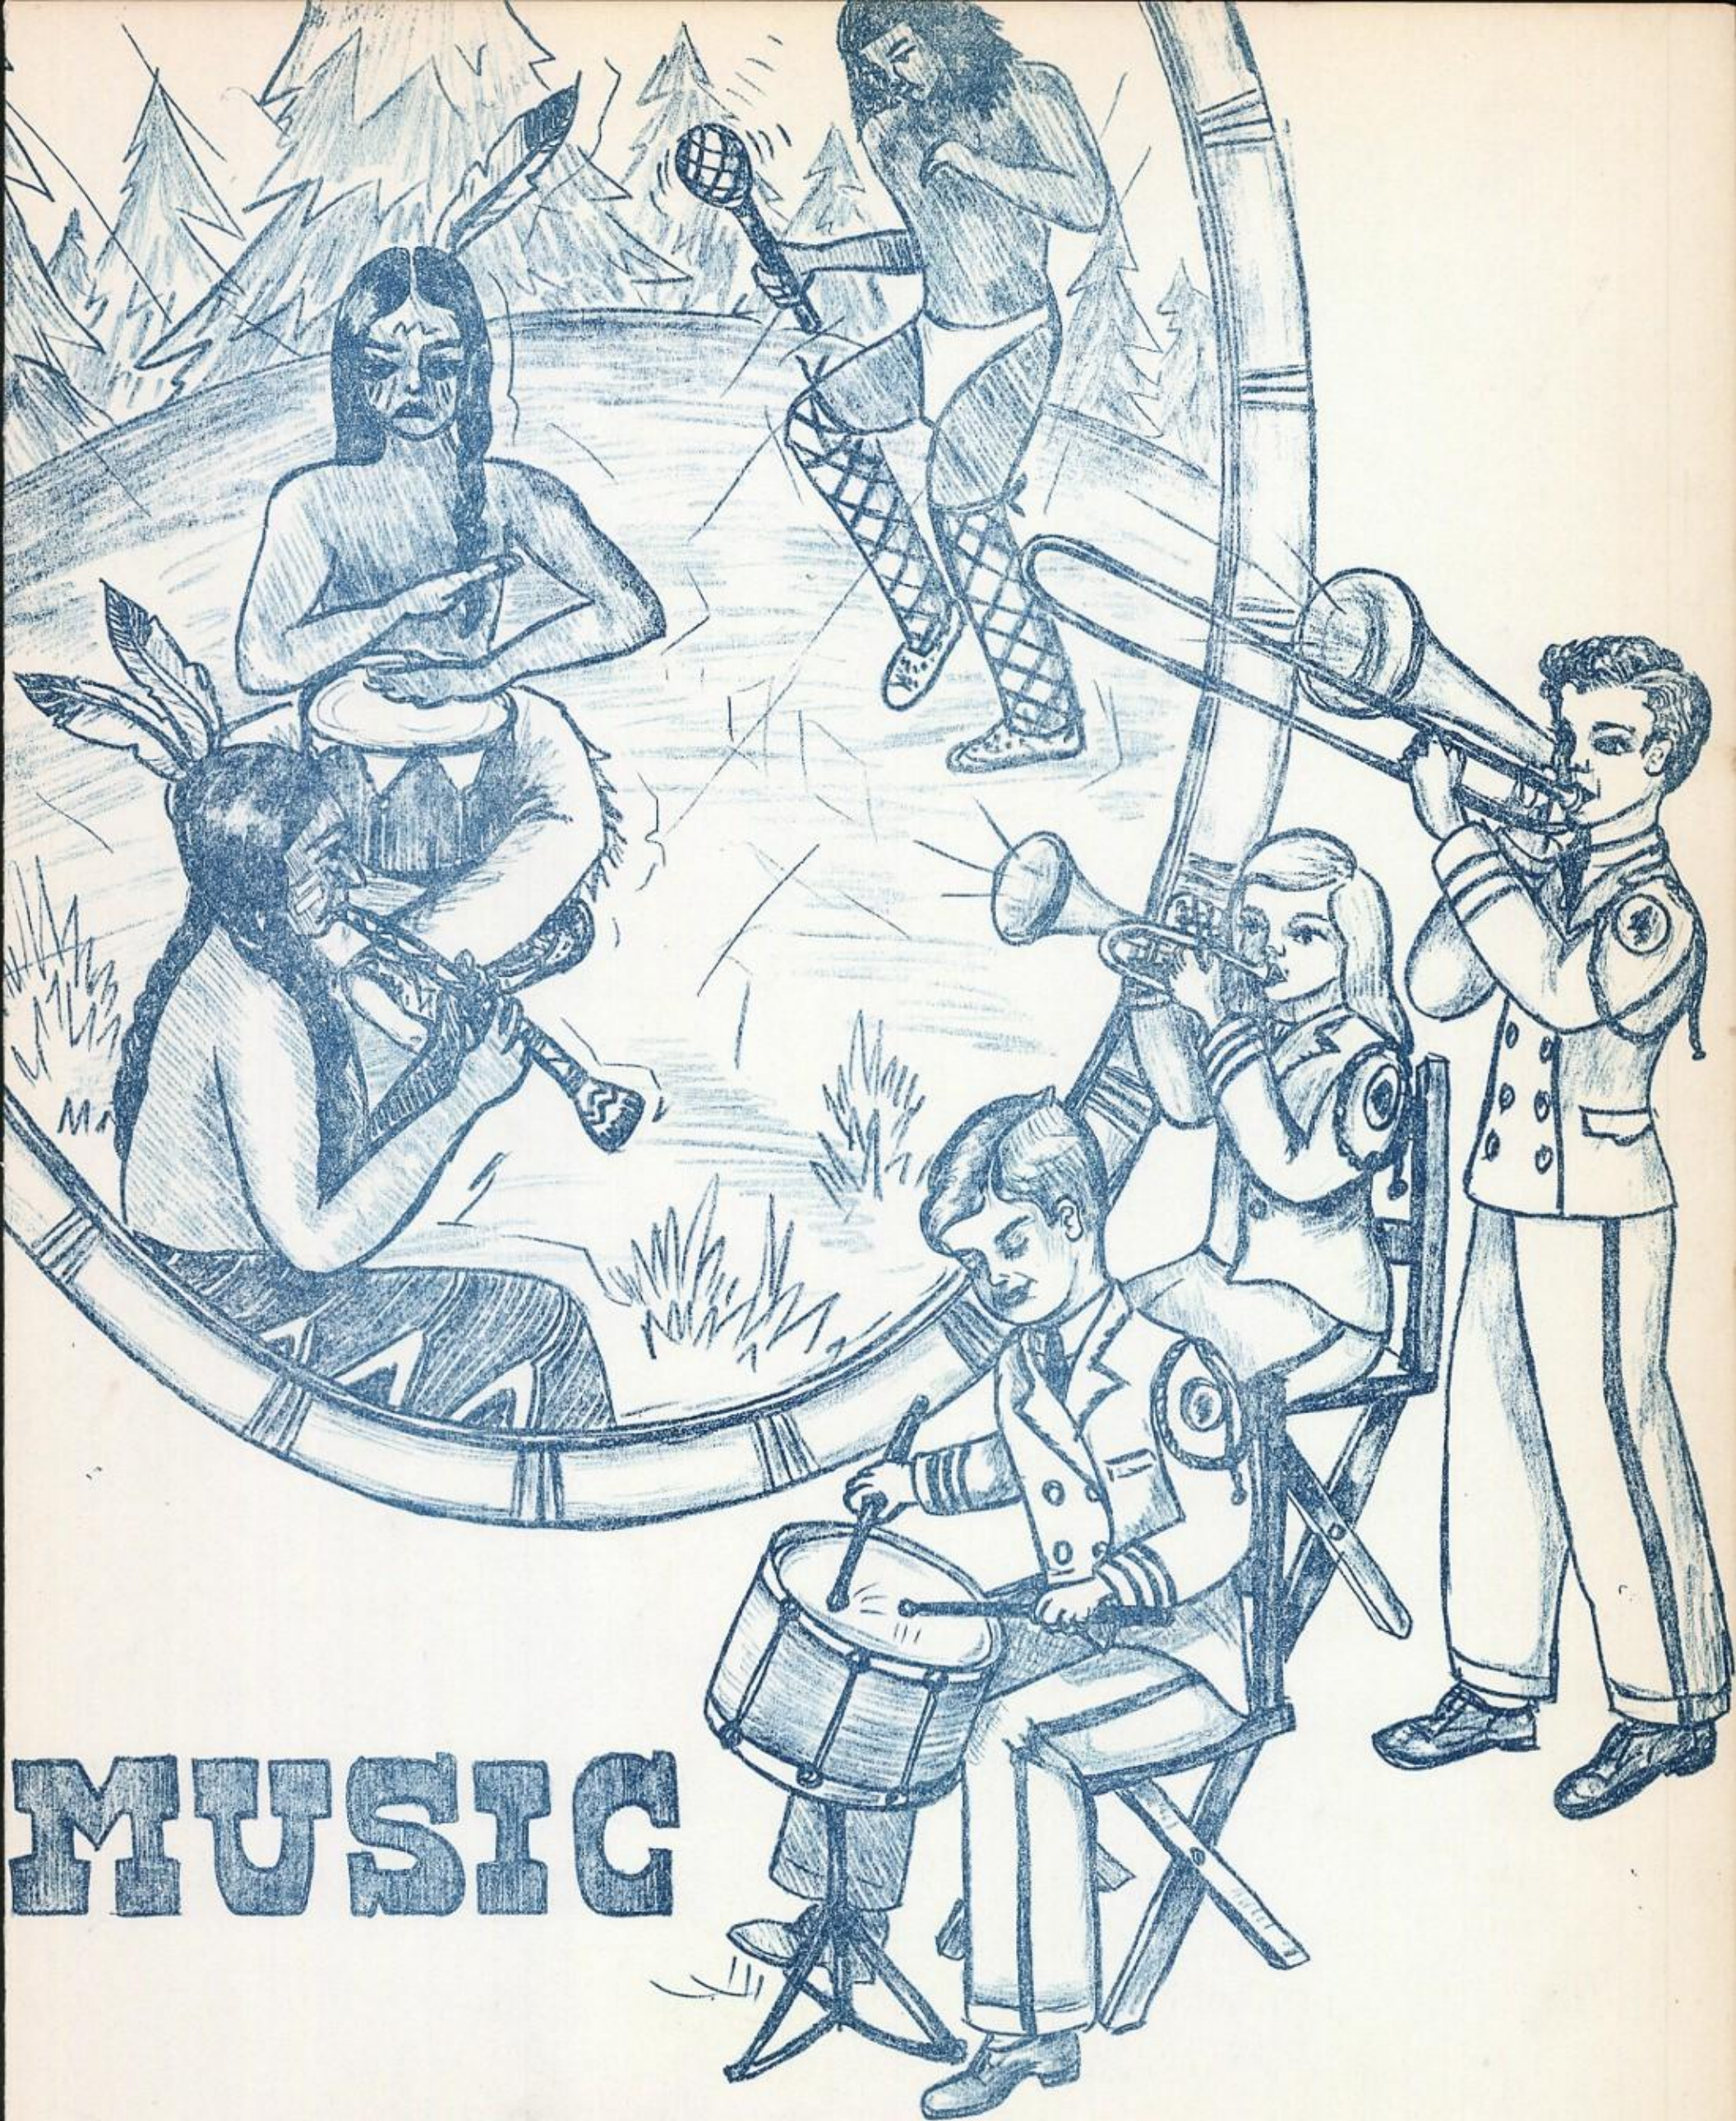

The men wore beards, full trousers, flat crowned hats, but no mustaches. The women wore dresses of dark colors, with full skirts with broad bands at the waist. A shawl and bonnet were added to their outfit.

The towns grew. They needed more land but the value had risen. The elders thought it best to move to the West where the land was still cheap.

There was a more specific reason for going, though. Buffalo gave more worldly attractions and temptations for the young people.

They moved to Amana, Iowa, where they now live and are very successful in making refrigerators, woolen goods, and other products. Today they are called Amanas. They own and eat in their own houses and work Americans.

BASEBALL

Familiar faces were missing as West Seneca's baseball team reported for spring practice but returning from last year's squad were such experienced lettermen as Bud Knuth, Joe Mumm, Bud Murray, George Schoenhardt, Nels Wright and Jack Zimmerman.

The baseball team, under Coach Ryan, climaxed a very successful season by sweeping their inter-divisional playoff series with Eden and thereby winning the Southern Erie County League all-round and Class A Championships. The boys compiled an enviable record of ten straight victories at one time during the season.

In a tense and thrill-packed struggle at Chestnut Ridge Park, West Seneca was defeated 8-6 by Hamburg High, Northern Erie County titlists for the county championship and the right to enter the sectional playoffs.

Everett (Bud) Murray who had one of the top high school pitching records in Western New York, suffered his first loss of the season in this game after having twirled nine consecutive wins.

LOOKING THEM OVER FOR 1950

Remember: Jerry Springer's distance clout at Green Lake tying the score 1-1 and giving West Seneca a chance to win in extra innings, Joe Mumm's towering drive over the local fence at Ebenezer, Dave Pearce's long homer in the playoff game at Chestnut Ridge, Bud Murray's two game shutout of Eden, league winners, Jack Zimmerman's clutch hitting, especially of doubles, — that day in assembly when the championship trophy was presented to Captain-elect Murray with the entire team proudly looking on, — the heartbreak in the playoff game with Hamburg in which the bases were loaded twice in the last two innings only to remain that way, and last but not least, that rare gem of baseball, that sensational "triple play," the only one in the league's history, in which Jack Zimmerman and Dave Pearce combined to retire Sloan without a run after they had filled the bases with no outs.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

When the Varsity cagers reported for practice this fall, only two lettermen from the previous year, Bob Leatherbarrow and Don Stewart were back. Up from the Junior Varsity however, came much needed help in the form of Dave Pearce, Don Priore, Hank Piegza, Wally Simpson and Dick Rotterman.

Mr. Robinson and Mr. Abrams combined their time, efforts and basketball knowledge in coaching both the J. V. and Varsity basketball teams for the 1950-51 season.

Dave Pearce amassed 137 points to emerge as top scorer for the entire season--and his 21 points against Angola were high for any one game. The second Gowanda game was a thriller which was finally won by West Seneca in the closing seconds 35-34. The services of Ed Doerfel, playing his first year of Varsity ball, were lost late in the season as he exchanged uniforms--basketball for military. Orchard Park's invading league champions were pressed to the limit before eking out a last quarter victory. Bud Knuth, in his P. G. year, earned his varsity W to become a major letter winner in three sports--football, basketball, and baseball. The loss to Sloan, traditional rivals, on our homecourt was a heartbreaker. Our quintet held a commanding lead in the early stages of the game only to see it ebb away. Speaking of rebounds, Glinski, Simpson, and Yea should do their share of controlling backboards next year.

The outlook for the 1951-52 season is indeed bright with the prospective return of stellar sophomore's Bill Glinski and Joe Yea, along with such proven performers as Pearce, Priore and Simpson. These five lettermen should be ably supported by those graduating from the J. V. ranks, perhaps even pressed to retain their varsity recognition.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

TEAM

Frank Boniface	John Crawford	Gerald Mingle
Maurice Bowes	John Fairbanks	Daniel Szczepanski
Joseph Corbett	Garry Hall	Ronald Thomas

The Junior Varsity basketball team compiled an impressive record this year winning fourteen games and losing only two, those to Orchard Park and Gowanda on their respective home courts. This makes two years in a row that our J. V. hoopsters have gone undefeated on their home court at Winchester.

John Crawford and Ronald Thomas were the only experienced holdovers from last year's squad. John Fairbanks, a newcomer, caged 134 points, high total for the team. The Junior Varsity provides an excellent proving ground for prospective Varsity material and more should be heard of Crawford, Fairbanks, Szczepanski, Mingle and Bowes next year as they vie for berths.

The managers were John Zimmerman, Richard Rotterman, and Daniel Spisiak.

When graduation riddled the gridiron strength of his previous year's winning club, Coach Urich found himself faced with a tremendous job of rebuilding. Dave Pearce alone was left from 1949's starting backfield with Don Priore and Clare Schoenl the only two first-string lineman back. Don Pearce's call to active duty with the armed forces was also a serious blow to future plans as was the early season injury of Don Reger, capable center from last year. Mr. Robinson, assistant coach, aided greatly in the development of the inexperienced material.

Arthur Goodreds	96.7	Kenneth Schelesky	109.7
James Groff	110.8

Daniel Spisiak, alternate, took part in two matches. Down the fairway with the highlights of the season:

On June 12, 1950, at South Shore Country Club, West Seneca participated in the annual Class A Section VI Scholastic Golf Tournament. Along with their neighboring rivals from the Erie County "A" League were teams from Niagara and Chautauqua Counties. West Seneca, well represented by the quartet of Goodreds, Groff, Motak and Werschin, placed third among such qualified clubs.

A great honor was bestowed upon both school and individual when Art Goodreds stroked at 94 to place fifth in this keenly contested tournament and received one of the New York State Public High School Athletic Association awards and became the first athlete to win such a coveted award in the history of West Seneca Central High School.

At Sheridan Golf Club on June 13, 1950, all the representatives of the Erie County "A" League took part in the Medal Tournament. West Seneca placed fourth with a five man total of 476. Werschin fired a brilliant round of 85 to finish among the lowest scorers.

1st row: Yaw, Dorr, Jones, Kennick, Flury, Backus, Poth, 2nd row: Mr. Walker, Beaman, Bork, Burges, Breidenstein, Spisiak, Mr. Vigatto.

This year, intramural bowling, as well as varsity competition, was held under the dual leadership of Mr. Viggata and Mr. Walker. There was a definite system used by these men to select the boys who should represent West Seneca in league competition. The intramural bowling activities held each Monday served as try-outs for varsity recognition.

Of all the contestants in the intramurals, those five or six who rolled the highest average scores were chosen to comprise West Seneca's varsity bowling team for that one particular week.

In order to earn a major letter a member had to participate in at least ten varsity games. Dick Yaw was the only member to have the distinction of receiving a major letter both this year and last year.

TRACK AND FIELD FOR 1950

Seven veteran performers greeted Coach D'Amato as the candidates for the 1950 track and field aggregation responded to his call. Metzger and Stewart were back for the dashes, Leatherbarrow for the distance runs, and Don Pearce for pole-vaulting, Krawczyk for weight throwing and Toy and Taylor for the relay teams. Bob Leatherbarrow and Keith Taylor were co-captains of the 1950 track and field team.
